SESSION 2: PROMOTING TOURISM THROUGH CULTURAL HERITAGE

Background

The SAMOA Pathway recognises the need to develop cultural and creative industries, including tourism, that capitalise on their rich heritage of and have a role to play in sustainable and inclusive growth in SIDS. Tourism presents a significant opportunity to involve willing traditional communities to benefit from the increase in demand from travellers looking for cultural experiences as part of their travel package.

This session will highlight modelling tourism incorporating culture and heritage as part of destination marketing in SIDS. The session will also focus on conservation of the valuable underwater heritage of SIDS. Discussants will also look at partnership models to generate income for local communities and maintain and respect local cultures, traditions, and heritage. The use of innovative approaches to niche tourism products in this regard will also be discussed.

Key objectives:

1. Highlight how strengthening cooperation between tourism and culture sectors can drive progress towards the SDGs.
2. Showcase models for sustainable tourism to safeguard and foster the appreciation for tangible and intangible heritage as well as encouraging the development of arts, crafts and other creative activities.¹
3. Underscore the strong interlinks between tourism and culture, and identify partnership models, including public-private sector partnerships which, are mutually beneficial to tourism development and promotion of cultural heritage.
4. Share success stories multi-stakeholder engagement among culture and tourism stakeholders at all levels to address cross-cutting issues such as poverty eradication; job creation; reducing inequality including through economic empowerment of women and local communities.
5. Announcement of new partnerships that can help unlock the potential of sustainable tourism and promotion of cultural heritage in SIDS and support the achievement of the SDGs.
